

Karen Friar

Community & News Editor, ZDNet UK

Karen Friar is the Community & News Editor at ZDNet UK. She is responsible for the web 2.0 community features, such as blogs and networking, which are an important part of the ZDNet UK experience.

Karen arrived at ZDNet UK after 15 years living abroad in San Francisco. Many of those Silicon Valley years she spent at CNET News.com, where she edited enterprise software and hardware stories, focusing on security coverage.

Karen's career prior to CBS Interactive was eventful, including being employed by the Polish government while the Iron Curtain was still up, seeing the GLC through its final days, and helping produce a movie shown at the Berlin Film Festival.

About ZDNet UK

ZDNet UK (www.zdnet.co.uk) is the most advanced website for technology decision makers who need complete coverage of business technology. The website takes the principles of web 2.0 and applies them to the business environment to give our members personal control over their experience. It brings a new look, features and functionality to enable IT professionals to interact with and get the advice of their peers, build their own social network, connect with vendors, and collaboratively solve operational and strategic business technology problems on their terms.

In addition, our experienced team of editorial specialists continues to deliver news, analysis and interpretation of the ever-changing IT environment and how technology impacts business today - providing the trusted, independent, authoritative content that has made ZDNet.co.uk the first stop for everyone in IT.
