

Steve Ranger

Editor, silicon.com

Silicon.com's Editor, Steve Ranger, has written about business and technology issues for nearly a decade.

He joined silicon.com in March 2005 as business editor, focusing on real-life innovative uses of technology by the public sector, financial services companies and retailers. Steve became Editor of silicon.com in 2007.

Steve has often appeared on television, radio and at conferences as a commentator on technology issues.

Areas of expertise

- Public sector, Off-shoring, Security issues, Web 2.0

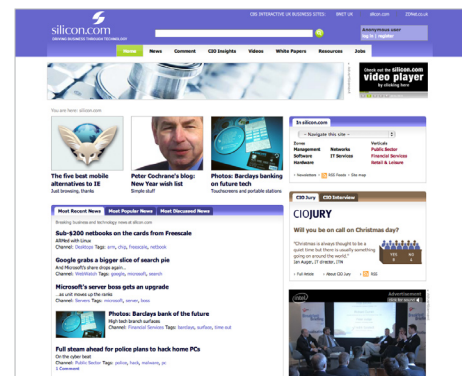

Recent media appearances

- BBC Worldwide, World Business Report, CNBC

About silicon.com

silicon.com (www.silicon.com) is the leading UK website for senior IT and business decision makers seeking to assess and understand how technology can drive their business forward. Delivering top stories, breaking news and leading commentary and analysis, silicon.com provides context and strategic insight into the key issues influencing how businesses use technology today.

silicon.com creates a common language for its audience that enables understanding of technology in terms of results. Our users consider the website an essential business resource which they rely on to make the decisions that shape their IT strategies.

Contact

If you'd like to invite Steve to comment or speak on business technology issues, please contact:

Helen Cooke
Tel: 020 7021 1100
Email: helen.cooke@cbs.com